Art Exhibition To Feature Works Of Quebec Painters

A three week long exhibition of Canadian art will be held at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts in January under the auspices of Scope of McGill and a student committee from the University of Montreal. Details of the show were officially released at a press conference last night.

Thirty-five top painters from the Province of Quebec will exhibit their works during the event. The entire project in under the patronage of the Governor-General, who will officially open the exhibition on January 17.

Responsibilities Realized

The exhibition is intended as a very tangible sign that the Universities have realized their responsibilities toward the National culture; by bringing art to the public and students alike, they desire to see a national participation in the growth of the arts. The organisers hope that this exhibition of Quebec painters only will be followed by similar regional presentations in all universities throughout Canada, and that exchanges will be made between the various regions and universities.

The University of Montreal is currently running an art exhibition featuring sculptures, ceramics, and pottery. The exhibition is on until December 23.

Editorial

Nothing Sacred

One of the duties of the Daily on the campus is to give expression to the views of individuals and small groups who have something worth while to say, and no other way of expressing it. This can be done through letters to the Editor, through feature articles, through Ivory Towers, or through the Editorial comments. If there seems to be a large enough body of opinion and a principle involved, then an editorial is employed as the best means of expression.

All sorts of institutions have come under fire this way, and we believe that any organisation should be able to meet such criticism, and not merely call the Daily names, and imply that the Editors are irresponsible and immature merely because they express another viewpoint.

A case in point is the recent furor that has arisen over certain "attacks" on RVC. The implication seems to be that this institution, even more than the SEC is above criticism. In the pages of the Daily, apparently, you can advocate free love, praise genocide, and support prostitution. But you can't criticise RVC. The RVC has begun to represent the peak of the cult of the 'Sacred Cow', which can do no wrong.

In case there is a feeling that RVC is being attacked for the sake of attacking, let us add to the impression we tried to convey in another editorial. We like RVC. We think it is an admirably run institution. Its rules and regulations are more liberal than those of most womens residences. The fees in relation to the facilities offered are absurdly small. All in all, RVC is an excellent deal for women students, and if anyone cares to submit an article on "RVC — Earthly Paradise", we would be only too happy to print it.

But surely one of the strengths of such an institution and its supporters must be an ability to meet criticism and to keep an open mind. If there are complaints about RVC and the women students chose to use the columns of the Daily to express themselves, then that is their right. The Daily, as a free newspaper, retains the right to express opinions, and to try to represent every shade of campus opinion.

Letters To The Editor

Deplores Lack Of Initiative

Sir:

In the Daily Editorial of Dec. 4, entitled "If they won't vote, let them not" — a third slogan which I placed on Campus which reads "Train for good citizenship, vote on December 5" was conspicuous by its absence.

I for one, gentlemen, deplore the fact that some 60% or so of University students who are always being referred to by the Daily as the "Future Leaders of the Community" have not enough initiative to vote for a candidate of their own choosing.

If University students are to be leaders in a democratic constitutional state such as Canada, it is certainly their obligation to participate in its fundamental "mechanical" operation — the Election; albeit this particular one is on the University and not the National level.

It is to be granted that ideally a person who has not developed civic mindedness which bids him cast his ballot should not in fact be urged to vote. For a responsible vote must be preceeded by a responsible and informed attitude. But the normal person simply does

'Unfortunate'

Sir:

We consider the editorial in Monday's McGill Daily entitled "Anti-Pool" to be the most unfortunate piece of writing to have appeared in those columns for some time. We say "most unfortunate" for had its author used the simple expedient of asking those concerned with the pool the whys and wherefores of it, we are sure their questions would have been satisfactorily answered, and they then would not have misrepresented the situation.

We are not aware of all the plans for extension of the University and the R.V.C. which the Board of Governors knew when it accepted the gift of our benefactor, but we do know the following pertinent facts.

The donor's personal interest was not interested in providing facilities for the campus as a whole. His gift was anonymous and unsolicited. May we point out here, that if we want to contribute to the Community Chest but not to the Red Cross (both of which are worthy of our help) it is our prerogative.

It has been estimated that by 1960, the male enrollment of the University will be so large that the Currie pool will not be able to accommodate any women students. Even now, the Physical Education staff is hard put to fit in the instructional swimming programme. Those participating in the Water Show must have rehearsals at times which conflict with meal hours, and consequently cramped athletic facilities are already disrupting R.V.C. operation procedure.

The students which R.V.C. accomodates in McLennan Hall are upper year students in Physio, all of whom have had one or two years residence in R.V.C. The school of Physical and Occupational Therapy is under the Faculty of Medicine and according to statutes, R.V.C. at present has no direct responsibilities to anyone in Physio. We imagine that steps will be taken in the future to make Physios legally a part of R.V.C. We know that their faculty looks forward to the introduction of course in hydrotherapy (not given now through lack of facilities) with the construction of the pool. At present, the R.V.C. provides residence for Physios and intends to continue to do so.

The College must build more residence areas in the future and this fact is not ignored by the authorities. However, people who are now being refused admittance are those whose academic qualifications are dubious or who applied too late in the year for their applications to be processed. Even so, there are still being admitted to R.V.C. a substantially large number of persons each year who fail out or leave McGill through lack of interest. Obviously, R.V.C. is not yet refusing fully qualified students if it is still accepting people who don't make the grade. When R.V.C. must refuse qualified students it will need to add more rooms, but this will necessitate expansion of other facilities too (dining, kitchen, storage etc.) The space freed in R.V.C. (locker rooms, athletic offices) with the construction of a pool will be

Bob Amaron

The importance of representing the wishes of Arts and Science I have discussed in my campaign letter. However, you elect your Representative also to relieve you of the bother of handling routine student affairs. Accordingly, my responsibility as a candidate includes showing that I am a person you can trust to handle such matters on my own, but in a manner satisfactory to you.

I'm your man if you want...

Better and closer relations with the students of other Universities, both Canadian and foreign.

Closer co-operation with the University authorities in order to best serve the interests of McGill as a whole and the student body in particular.

Fair and complete distribution of Council funds, primarily to foster a growth of McGill organizations.

And of course, Good Government.

Brahm Campbell

Open S.E.C. meetings in the main, increased student understanding of the workings of their executive, greater national and international student co-operation, and true representation for the views of Arts and Science students with their interests always in mind form the planks in my platform. If elected, these are the goals for which I shall continually strive.

Brahm Campbell

PEN SKETCH

Brahm was graduated from Strathcona Academy where he was active in Red Cross work and debating. Here at McGill he is in his third year of an Arts Course majoring in Political Science. At present he is on the Arts and Science Executive, as debating co-chairman, on the executive of the McGill Liberal Club, on the steering Committee for the Mock Parliament, and he is also active in the United Nations' Club's Model Security Council. Last season Brahm received his gold "A", and he also won the Arts and Science Senior Debating Trophy and the Hugesson Memorial Cup for Inter-collegiate debating.

CAREER-MINDED ENGINEERS

Meet Shawinigan's Representatives On Campus

DECEMBER 10

Men, if you're looking ahead to a career in industry, don't miss this opportunity to talk over career prospects at The Shawinigan Water and Power Company.

The Shawinigan Water and Power Company is a major producer and distributor of hydro-electric power in Quebec. Immediate and long-term expansion plans create challenging and rewarding career opportunities for graduating Electrical, Mechanical and Civil Engineers.

Make a date to meet senior engineers from Shawinigan's two main operating divisions and a personnel officer of the Company on December 10. Contact the University Placement Office where descriptive literature on the Company is available.

David Freedman

To increase student participation in activities, I promise to encourage use of student application forms for executive positions, to urge the S.E.C. to open its policy-making meetings, and give representation to natural groups, such as fraternities, residences, and activities.

I promise to seriously consider the opinions of my fellow students, and represent as best I can the interests of our faculty.

David Freedman

PEN SKETCH

One seldom finds the qualities of academic excellence and experience in extracurricular activities combined to the degree which the following record reveals.

David Freedman entered McGill in 1934 from Strathcona Academy, with a University Scholarship, having placed third in the H.S.L. examinations. He won the Redpath Scholarship for leading first year Arts and Science. His University Scholarship was renewed in 1955 and 1956. He is reading honours Mathematics.

While accomplishing this he had time for the following:

1954 ASUS Debating Committee.
1955 ASUS Senior Debating Championship; ASUS Debating Award; Hugessen Trophy; Gold A Award; Secretary, Debating Union.
1956 Mathematics Society; Daily; SCOPE Committee; Vice-President, Debating Union.

We the undersigned enthusiastically recommend David Freedman for the post of Arts and Science reprensentative to the S.E.C., on the basis of his character, his record, and the promise he has revealed while at McGill.

Claire Tucker

If elected as A.S.U.S. representative to the S.E.C., I will do my best to promote the interests of the Arts and Science undergraduate body in student affairs. To carry out this promise, I would be only too glad to listen to any opinions that members of Arts and Science might have concerning campus activities, and to present them to the S.E.C. for consideration. Furthermore, I would report all important matters discussed in S.E.C. via notices on the A.S.U.S. bulletin boards.

I firmly believe that S.E.C. should be a representative rather than a governing body, and will do my part to make it such if elected.

In conclusion I can promise that my efforts would be directed at being: firstly, an adequate representative of A.S.U.S. opinion; secondly, an effective liaison between A.S.U.S. and S.E.C.; and lastly, an active member of S.E.C.

Claire Tucker

PEN SKETCH

The activities in which Claire has participated as listed below are evidence of her capability:

Westhill High School:

1. President of Junior Red Cross.
2. Vice President of the Hi-Y.

McGill:

1. Co-directress of the McGill Water Show, 1956.
2. Intercollegiate swimming team, 1956.
3. Choral Society.
4. Psychology Club.
5. Freshette Reception Committee, 1956.
6. Open House, 1956, Publicity Committee.

For her leadership qualities, executive ability and good sportsmanship, we nominate Claire Tucker.

Stuart Smith

If elected, I shall concentrate on providing the students of Arts and Science with effective and REAL representation. Four main issues I shall support are:

1) Open meetings;
2) More student use of the Winter Stadium;
3) A student [illegible] that will make known the opinions of the student body on issues of importance.
4) Closer co-operation with other universities.

Stuart Smith

PEN SKETCH

We, the undersigned, feel that Stu's record and experience in a wide variety of campus activities render him the logical choice as Arts and Science S.E.C. representative. A University scholar and a Psychology honors student Stu is presently the Associate Editor of the Annual, the Executive Sports Editor of the Daily, the Chairman of the Winter Carnival Debating Conference, and a member of the executive of the Debating Union and of the Winter Carnival. He has also held positions as Associate Editor of the Handbook, and as On Campus Debating Chairman. Having represented McGill on numerous occasions in intercollegiate debate, he holds a Gold "A" debating and executive award, as well as the Special Award from the McGill Daily. We suggest that all this experience, combined with his sincere attitude, mark Stu as the ideal man for the S.E.C.

These facts we have casually learned in chatting with Dr. Roscoe at coffee and other times. Any other woman student has the opportunity to learn them as we did. Certainly if anyone were to approach Dr. Roscoe with the intent of writing an editorial for the Daily they would learn far more and get the complete picture of this situation. Why, then, have you plunged into print with this distorted account without first asking for facts from informed sources?

It is our hope that our benefactor has not read the irresponsible tirades which have appeared on your Editorial page. If he has, we hope he will read this too and know that the critics of this plan are uninformed, have not attempt to inform themselves, and do not represent the people whom he wishes to assist.

Should other potential benefactors of McGill or the R.V.C. or MacDonald College read the Daily, may we add that a University is a place where youths become adults; please have patience with those who find it difficult to make the transition.

ENGINEERING CANDIDATES

Steve Allison

If elected, I promise to represent the Engineers so that their opinions and wishes, on any issue, will be respected and considered by the S.E.C.

My aims will be to promote greater co-operation between the E.U.S. Executive and the various S.E.C. COMMITTEES with whom they deal. Also, I aim to stimulate increased Engineer participation in student activities.

Steve Allison

PEN SKETCH

We, the undersigned, heartily endorse Steve Allison as your S.E.C. representative. We do this in view of the great efforts he has put into his extremely varied campus activities. In particular, we feel that he has had more experience with the E.U.S. Executive than any of his opponents. He gained this as 2nd Year President and Engineering Athletics Representative.

Steve is a member of the Scarlet Key. He has been in the McGill C.O.T.C., and last year was the Contingent RSM. His other activities include the Anpual, Freshman Reception, and the Prom, Plumber's Ball and Tri-Service Ball Committees. He was vice-chairman of the recent Students' Fund for McGill.

Athletically, Steve has been equally active, having been on the Intercollegiate Rugger, Track, and Harrier teams, and competing in numerous intramural sports.

We can only give you his qualifications: It is up to you to vote.

Louis Donolo

As your representative to the S.E.C. I would attempt to:

1. Represent the engineering viewpoint on the Council and gain more recognition for the Faculty.
2. Obtain more funds and cooperation, to run our Engineering Society Activities on a larger scale.
3. Give the Engineering student a more responsible say in his own government.
4. Improve our social program.

Louis Donolo

PEN SKETCH

During his four years at McGill Louis Donolo has had the opportunity of working with and gaining the friendship and admiration of a large number of his fellow students. He has been active on the McGill Winter Carnival Executive for the past three years and is now chairman of the Carnival. In 1955, he was Technical Director of the Red and White Revue, and is at present, chairman of the McGill Prom. He is an executive member of the Inter-Fraternity Council and the Civil Engineering Society; a member of the Phi Epsilon Alpha Society and a member of the Scarlet Key. He has taken part in organizational work in numerous campus activities. We earnestly believe that having served in these capacities, he possesses qualities of leadership and ability which will enable him to properly represent the Faculty of Engineering on the S. E. C.

Mike Novac

Did you know that the Faculty of Arts and Science has 2 representatives on the Students Executive Council, for 1,700 students and the Faculty of Engineering has only one for 1,600 students? Although this question of representation has been raised many times nothing has been done. If elected I would attempt to correct this injustice.

I could make many promises but it must be realized that the Faculty of Engineering represents only 5% of the voting power on the S.E.C. Consequently, it would be dishonest to present illusions of grandeur. However, I would like to emphasize that the interest of the engineers will always be foremost in my mind.

Mike Novac

PEN SKETCH

It is with great confidence that we recommend Mike Novac for the position of S.E.C. Representative. Since he entered McGill in 1954, Mike has proved himself as an athlete and a scholar, maintaining a better-than-average standing while participating in such sports as tennis, squash and skiing. A very active man in campus affairs Mike has been an executive of the U.N. Club, connected with the Plumbers Ball, Carnival Ball, Open House, McGill Fund and the McGill Daily. An active debater in the Faculty of Engineering and in inter-faculty debating, Mike was recently a delegate to the N.F.C. U.S. conference and is presently the co-chairman of the Engineering Undergraduate Society House-Committee and of the S.E.C. Parking Committee.

Vito Volterra

I feel that our faculty is carrying more than its share in campus activities. Almost all major events on the S.E.C. schedule are run and organized by engineers, while the E.U.S., as such, is not given any credit for it. The Engineering Faculty is kept isolated by the S.E.C. in general: the Council sponsors cultural and educational programs aimed mainly for other faculties, like Arts. Even if we receive about 2,500 dollars a year from the students fees, I do not think it is fair to leave the complete load of technical educational programs on the E.U.S.

One of the things I feel most strongly about is the fact that we are the largest faculty in the university (more than 25% of the whole students body) and we have only one member on the Council. It is obvious that the S.E.C. is not representing the faculties but the students as a body, and I feel that the students should be represented in their ideas and their needs in proportion to their number. I feel that two representatives should be elected from Engineering (this will be, if elected, my principal aim).

Vito Volterra

PEN SKETCH

Vito has always been very active on the campus. This year he was Ass't. Chairman of the Freshmen Reception Committee; Chairman of promotions in the Winter Carnival; Co-Chairman of the Social Committee of the Union; Treasurer of the Arts and Craft Exhibition Committee; Assistant of the McGill Students Fund. We the undersigned think that by voting Vito Volterra for S.E.C. representative you will be making the right choice.

DENTISTRY

Alonzo Whitney

The position of S.E.C. Representative for the Faculty of Dentistry carries with it a great deal of responsibility. I can however, make no big promises of things I will do if elected, but I can promise to do my best to ably represent you.

Due to the size of our faculty, it goes without saying, we have many financial problems in conjunction with our D.U.S. activities. If we are to operate with our "heads above water" we will need additional grants from the Students' Society. Our Dean Mowry Loan Fund will also need additional grants in order to meet the needs of Dental students who may encounter unforseen emergencies.

not always act as he should. In matters in which he is called to exercise responsibility he must be urged to do so for otherwise he just might not act. Responsibility is the product of education. As for 40% vote, this is not democracy, and as long as we are content with this minority vote we are in danger of losing all that is valuable in the system.

It was particularly interesting to note that the Editors of the Daily, after haranguing about the irresponsibility implicit in encouraging students to vote, did not even have enough responsibility to leaf their own pages and discover that the S.E.C. Elections are to be held today rather than on Thursday as reported in the misguided Editorial.

Canada At The Olympics

As of last night, the U.S.A. still held a slight lead in the unofficial scoring at the Olympic Games, but Russia's point total was climbing fast and she will probably forge ahead of the American team by the end of the week.

Irene MacDonald brought jubilation into the Canadian camp as she finished third in the women's springboard diving championships to give Canada a Bronze medal.

Tommy Walker, the jubilant coach of Canada's Olympic swimmers, yesterday predicted that his charges may come away with up to three medals. Still in the running are Sara Barber of Brantford, Ontario who qualified for the finals in the 100-metre backstroke and butterfly events; Beth Whittall of Montreal who made the finals of the 100-metre butterfly to join Miss Barber, and the women's 400-metre relay team who swam their way to the final.

Ski House

The Ski House in Ste. Adele is open once again for the skiing season. Sponsored by the MWSAA, the Ski House is an excellent place for McGill coeds to plan a weekend up north during the skiing season. Accomodation is available for thirteen girls. Reservations should be made through the Physical Education office in R.V.C. The price is one dollar and fifty cents for two days and fifty cents extra for any additional days. Food costs for the weekend are shared by the girls present.

Exams start on Jan. 4, from which day the House will be open. Anyone wishing to plan a few days up north after their exams and before the start of lectures should make their reservations now.

Basketball

In the intramural basketball league, the Monday and Thursday champions have been decided: Phys. Ed 111 and Arts and Science. The play off for the intramural championship will take place on this Thursday November 6, in the Currie gym at 5:15 pm. In the Monday section finals, the Phys. Ed. 111 team displayed a very strong defence which might be the deciding factor in the championship game on Thursday. Joan Sanderson, an intercollegiate player, Linda Brooks, and Mary Gardner were very strong defecively, while Dorte Ann Underhill, Sheila Roy, and Ann Henders netted most of their team's points.

Swimming

McGill's synchronized swimming team, which performed well in the recent intercollegiate meet, will again be represent McGill on Saturday, Dec. 8 in a Provincial Synchronized Swimming Meet.

Gerry Debrule, who placed second in the Intercollegiate competition, and Carol Shetler will do solo numbers while Pat Orser teamed with Carol Shetler, and Judy Barlowe coupled with Claire Tucker will perform duets, vyeing for the "Twin Trophys."

The other synchronized division is for group competition. McGill's entry in the class is a number called "Asteroids", directed by Sue Mosely. Swimming in this number are P. McCullagh, A. Lough, J. Rochester, J. Savage, P. Orser and J. Sievert.

"Moonmaids", directed by R. Rochman, is the other group routine to be entered. S. Sutcliffe, A. Hamilton, R. Rochman, and J. Rochester are the girls forming this quartet.

Braves To Face Georgians

The McGill Intermediate hockey team will make their second start of the season tonight at MWS when they tangle with Sir George William's College. Game time is 7:15.

Heading the Sir George roster is defenceman Charlie Bailey who also plays for the Alouettes. The goaltending chores are being handled by Alex Gilbert. This is Gilbert's third year with the Georgians. He was the leading goalie in the Ottawa St. Lawrence Conference last season.

The Georgians first line will probably consist of Hec Willis, former Junior B player, Murry Johnson and Bob Vale. The coach, however, might reshuffle his attacking units for the McGill tilt.

Reports reaching us from the Drummond St. cultural centre are to the effect that the hockey club is out of condition. Nevertheless, the Georgians will be formidable opposition for the Braves as they are the more experienced of the two clubs.

On the McGill front, Meagher's boys are in top form. They have drilled consistently since they started training over six weeks ago. Much of this time was concentrated on passing.

Last week Meagher's crew showed well in trouncing the Loyola Warriors 11-4. In that contest Doug McGregor tallied four times and Gordie Merritt chalked up a hat trick. Captain Mardy Armstrong, assistant captain Joe Irvin, Marcel Forcier and John Baziw all played well offensively. On defense, Meagher will probably work John Bennett and Ian Sandzelius on one unit and Lafolley and E4 Eberts on the other.

The goaler's job is still a tossup for tonight's tilt. It last week's game both Porky Chrysler and Jerry Wasserman were used.

Athletics Night Saturday

McGill University will present its first Athletics Night of the year this Saturday in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium at eight p.m.

Exhibition basketball and wrestling will take place during the evening. Other features will be an intercollegiate squash match, a watershow, and the McGill final elimination bouts in boxing.

Basketball

The Redmen Basketball team will play Plattsburg State Teachers College in an exhibition game. The team from Plattsburg is one of the best from the American small college circuit, according to Coach Joe Anderson of the McGill team. However he feels confident of a McGill victory on Saturday.

"The increased height and general ability of the Redmen this year should contribute to a good season," Coach Anderson said in an interview yesterday.

Watershow

The annual watershow of the McGill Women's Athletic Association is a main attraction of Athletics Night. Titled "Heavens Above", the watershow is arranged around a theme depicting the constellations and heavenly bodies.

Synchronized swimming routines will be mixed with individual performances by figures like Jerry Anderson, McGill football player and track star, who was one of the eight finalists in the American National Diving Championships, last year. The watershow will also be presented on Friday, December 7th at 8:30. Tickets will be sold at different buildings around the campus and may be bought at the door on the night of the show.

Squash

Squash is one of the few intercollegiate sports McGill students can really boast about. The McGill squash team which will play against the American Intercollegiate Championship Harvard team at Athletics Night, have been Canadian Intercollegiate Champions officially for seven years

Unfortunately a lack of funds makes it impossible for McGill to compete more actively in the American intercollegiate circuit, of which McGill is a member.

Playing on McGill's team this year are many seasoned players and a few noteworthy newcomers. Back from last year are Tim Wagg, Canadian Intercollegiate champ, Tony Lafleur, runner-up, Henri Lafleur, Trevor Bishop, John Haly and Don Johnston.

Among the newcomers are Dave Pemberton-Smith, Dominion Junior Champ and top man on this year's team, Derek Drummond, and Keith Ham. Alternate is Doug Brock.

"We expect to win in Canada," Coach Al Molloy said confidently in a statement to the Daily yesterday.

The Canadian Championships will be held at McGill on the weekend of Feb. 23-24. The best four of McGill's team will then go down to the United States the following weekend to compete in the Intercollegiate Championships.

Harvard's team looks as good as ever this year, according to Coach Molloy, and he said that Athletic Night this Saturday should provide some excellent squash playing. Ben Hacksher, American Intercollegiate Champ, will be with the team again this year.

Pictured above are some of the sports which will be on exhibition at this year's Athletics Night 1 to be held this Saturday at 8 p.m.

Wrestling

With interest in intercollegiate wrestling greater this year than in many years past, McGill goes against the powerful Dartmouth University team in their first tournament of the 1956-57 wrestling season.

The team has been practicing for two months and are at last beginning to look like good wrestlers. As a matter of interest, the representative team going against Dartmouth has an even number of veterans and beginners, with all working to get their team points.

As many people know, Dartmouth always manages to send a top-notch team to McGill. Last year they sent an extremely powerful team to the Athletics Night which managed in a hard-fought battle to beat out McGill. This year they are expected to import a team at least as strong, or even stronger.

For McGill it will be Stan Hopemeyer at 123 lbs, Ted Gertin at 130 lbs, and Ray Sawchuk in the 137 lbs. class. The 147 lbs. class is represented by Dave O'Hashi, while there are 3 wrestlers at 157 lbs., Jack Wallace, Don Wighton, and Pete Blunt. Eli Shulman is in at 167 lbs. with John Mosher in the 177 lbs. class. At 191 lbs. there are two men, Abie Popolau and Leo Leduc, and in the heavyweight division is Mark Hatt.

To see some good wrestling, intercollegiate wrestling, that is, which is completely unlike the Forum variety, be at the gym when it is McGill versus Dartmouth.

Boxing

The final elimination bouts for the McGill boxing team will feature Pierre Ratmond and Denny Repole, former Intercollegiate champs.

Following the Athletics Night, dancing will take place in the Gym to the music of Stan Bankley's Orchestra. Admission is one dollar.

In a hard fought game, Phys. Ed. 3 defeated Phys. Ed 2 and 4 by a score of 20-11, thus making the finals in intramural basketball.

B. Cope and B. Alexander were top scorers for the Phys. Ed. 2 and 4 team, each netting 4 points.

For Phys. Ed. L. Brender scored 6 points, while P. Nugent and D. Underhill accounted for 4 points each. The guard line proved to be strong and effective, as a total of 17 fouls were called against the opponents, compared to 7 for Phys. Ed. 3.

Phys. Ed. 3 will now meet Arts-Science for the intramural championship in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium, on Thursday.

Squash

The Squash Club will meet on Wednesday evenings rather than on Tuesdays for the remainder of the term. To help us improve our play the coach will be at the courts this Wednesday. Those on the ladder tournament may also play at 7:30.

WUS And Universities Aid Hungarian Students

More than 2,000 Hungarian students have now reached Vienna. Many of the students led the recent revolt and lost all their belongings in their flight for freedom.

The World University Service, of which McGill is a member, is making attempts to care for these students in their temporary living quarters and to help them to find permanent resettlement wherever they can.

Several Canadian Universities have launched campaigns for funds and scholarships. Acadia students raised $150, (more than fifty cents per student), Queen's donated $1,600, Carleton had a mile of pennies, and the University of Montreal has collected more than $650.00. The University of British Columbia has offered three scholarships from funds raised by students and faculty. Saskatchewan Carleton, the University of New Brunswick, and Acadia will offer at least one scholarship each, and Toronto has promised several scholarships. Student councils are giving support to the appeal, with Saskatchewan giving $1,000, Toronto, $1,200 and McGill $500.

Throughout the World, WUS National Committees are raising funds and the following 8 countries have collected the amounts indicated, with more still to be transmitted: Denmark $16,000, Britain $3,500, Finland $5,000, U.S.A. $20,000, Netherlands $50,000, Norway $10,000, and the Gold Coast $400. Nation wide campaigns for funds and scholarships are also underway in Canada, Korea, and South Africa.

The urgent need is to relieve the congestion in Austria and provide for the rapid movement of students and faculty to other countries. WUS has taken the lead in securing scholarships, job assurances and resettlement opportunities in several countries; the American WUS Committee has immediately offered 100 scholarships, Switzerland has guaranteed 100, the Netherlands has accepted 100, France will admit up to 600, and Norway at least 10. "Funds are also desperately needed to carry out present commitments" reports Douglas Aitken, General Secretary of WUS International Headquarters in Geneva. He added, "the hostel for 100 students that WUS has established in Fribourg will cost about $5,000 a month to operate."

TRIPS TO THE MOON!

THE NFCUS TRAVEL DEPARTMENT cannot yet offer trips to the Moon. It can offer trips to Europe, Mexico, and the world, at prices that compare favorably with commercial or semi commercial agencies.

It also offers first-class charter flights — leaving June and returning August and September — at prices actually comparable to shipping rates. The Department is pleased to arrange trips on a group or individual basis.

It makes two special offers this year:

1. To any student at any university who organises a group of twenty or more students wishing to make a trip to Europe, the Department will provide free passage and accommodation. It will make all group arrangements and make reasonable charges.

2. After administrative costs have been covered any surplus remaining on the year's operations will be distributed as dividends to all NFCUS Travellers.

The NFCUS TRAVEL DEPARTMENT is organised by students for students, and is the only organisation of its kind in Canada. Sundry other organisations carry "university" and "educational" in their titles, but many are commercial organisations, and all have higher overheads and costs than the NFCUS. The more students that support the NFCUS the cheaper cost and the wider the choice.

Ask your NFCUS Chairman for the NFCUS Travel Brochure, and write to day adding your name to our mailing list for our monthly travel bulletins.

Please send me information on NFCUS Tours 1957,
